

Microbiology Solutions :

Pharmaceutical Microbiology involves monitoring,controlling and eradicating microorganisms in the process and testing environments of Pharma/Biopharma industry.

Traditional testing methods are often tedious and timeconsuming. BiomatiQ can help you in adopting newautomated and rapid procedures ensuring faster batch releases, complete traceability and better compliance.

Our expert team understands the growing needs of this segment and is ready with suitable Microbiology solutions to address all these needs.

Process Solutions :

Solutions for your Process (Biopharma-Pharma Manufacturing) applications.

Pharmaceutical and Biopharmaceutical manufacturing involves containment, Dispensing, storage, processing and single use product lines.

Utilizing reusable products for these applications may create concerns related to CIP and SIP.

We are providing best solutions for liquid handling, powder handling, powder containment, flexible containment solutions, and safe breathing apparatus to support your team in the best possible manner. Our expert team understands the growing needs of this segment and is ready with suitable Single use solutions to address all these needs.

Laboratory Consumables :

Comprehensive range of laboratory essential consumables for your everyday lab needs in Scientific, Research and Educational laboratories, at one single source. We ensure short and reliable delivery times from our warehouses which are located in major cities of India – Quality products at your doorstep!

Laboratory Equipment :

In recent times, rapid change along with its complexity and unpredictability has been the major challenge that all analytical professionals have been facing. Be it emerging contaminants, new testing methods or lower detection standards all make it challenging to keep pace with the booming segments.

Our comprehensive lab equipment portfolio at BiomatiQ offers everything from raw material testing to finished goods analysis. We have solutions that would help the users analyse maximum number of samples resulting in higher productivity in a sustainable approach. We have a user friendly, robust and global standard compliant range of analytical instruments. We offer preset methods and complete workflow

Molecular Biology Solutions :

With our wide range of products increase the efficiency of your daily molecular biology processes. We at BiomatiQ offer complete automated as well as individual products for your molecular diagnostics needs. With our technical team's support, you get solutions that are tailored to your application, through put and capacity needs.